Comments for Public Posting:	LA City Planning Land Use Committee, The Los Angeles Conservation Corps (LACC), is a nonprofit charitable 501(c)(3) organization whose mission is to “support youth and young adults to achieve their full potential through work, service, conservation and education”. We provide underserved youth the opportunity to earn a high school diploma, gain life skills and job experience and become contributing members of our communities. As 30% to 40% of the youth we serve are homeless or housing insecure, we know that bold action is required to address our housing crisis. Our Bridge Homes present an affordable, scalable, sustainable option for housing homeless youth in Los Angeles. We respectfully submit our support for adoption of the Ordinance and amendments proposed by staff and thank the Committee for directing staff to include movable tiny homes as Accessory Dwelling Units (ADU's). Staff did a fantastic job in preparing and processing the Ordinance through the Planning commission where it was recommended for adoption by the City Council in a unanimous vote. Thank you for your time and consideration.
