Communication from Public

Name:
Date Submitted: 10/11/2026 09:26 AM
Council File No: 22-1064
Comments for Public Posting: I live in a 90 year old building with original windows. This means it’s drafty in the winter and hot in the summer. This year I experienced heat exhaustion in my own home despite using multiple fans. The temperatures did not drop at night so there was literally no relief. The city must acknowledge that extreme heat is the new normal and protect renters from health emergencies by updating city codes, requiring landlords to cool habitable rooms.